KANNS INTERESTED IN MYSTERY CORNER

Big Department Store Firm to Have Share in Great F

with the ownership of the "mysterious" operations which have been in contemplation and progress for the last two years or more on the corner of Thirleenth and F streets northwest, where a ifteen-foot excavation in the ground is property a week ago, included the name now the only evidence of one of the biggest and most mysterious building interested in the negotiations on the schemes which has been under way in property, but will give out nothing.

It is said that the property will cover frontage of ninety-seven feet on F treet and 200 feet on Thirteenth street. The building will possibly be eleven stories in height, to meet the height limit on F street in that vioinity. Thirteen small stores will, it is reported, occupy the ground floor of the structure. These will be leased to merchants or tradesmen until further plans for a change in the Kann establishment might make it necessary for the firm to vacate its present quarters. The full content of the National University Club, who was as the National University of Law. Temporary officers to form an organization committee were chosen as follows: Charles R. Burgess, president; T. A. Underwood, vice president; E. W. Pierce, secretary; E. S. Brashears, to vacate its present quarters. street and 200 feet on Thirteenth street. to vacate its present quarters. The fu- treasurer.

ture of the present Kann store, at tencesEight and Market place, is not discussed by the management. In the vent of the Government clearing prop orty on the south side of Pennsylvania avenue, it is said, the firm would find its present location unsuitable on the porderland of property unoccupied by orivate owners.
Speculation as to the ownership of the F street property began when a well-known local real estate firm began to bnown local real estate firm began to buy in property adjoining lots in Thir-teenth and F streets, which were re-corded as being owned by a corpora-tion knows as the Washington New Theater Company. All permits and deeds to the corporation were made out in this name, and led to an assumption this name, and led to an assumption Street Building.

In this name, and led to an assumption that the property was to be occupied by a theater. Poll's, Chase's, and other theaters had, in the imaginations of many, already been built on the site.

Appleton P. Clark, jr., architect of this city, has charge of plans for the structure, and these are in course of preparation now.
